Coming soon...

our mission

We provide support and services to families of children diagnosed with life-threatening medical conditions, thereby restoring the sense of normalcy in the home environment.

youth mission

As a team, we bring awareness to life-threatening pediatric illnesses through philanthropy, leadership, and interaction with the families we care for, while developing key life skills and inspiring other youth to get involved.

KIDS 4 KIDS

"Kids 4 Kids" events are organized by The Let It Be Foundation's Youth Leadership Program—instilling confidence in youth volunteers as we care for children and families.

"Let It Be Night" @ Angel Stadium

We had an incredibly fun night at Angel Stadium when the Angels played the Seattle Mariners (The Angels won 5-1, of course!). The LA Angels donated over 280 tickets to the foundation so we could have a fun night with all our Let It Be families, members of the Jr. Links and Jr. Advisory teams, foundation staff, and volunteers. We all wore our Let It Be shirts and sat in the same section to cheer on the Angels. It was great to hang out with our families for a fun summer night at the ballpark!

Our youth leadership teams carpooled in groups to deliver jam-packed summer baskets to our Let It Be families at their homes! During our July meeting, we filled 8 large canvas bags with fun things for everyone: pool toys, beach towels, sun block, flip flops, Capri Suns, and beach mats. We hope that these special gifts will help our families enjoy some fun time together this summer. Thanks to everyone who donated items for our baskets.

Delivering Summer Fun!

CJ Corrales - Jr. Links Team

Freshman @ Chino Hills High School

This is my second year on Let It Be's Junior Links team. I re-applied for the team because of the fun experiences I had last season. I first joined last year, as an 8th grader, and I never knew that Let It Be had done so much, like holiday baskets and decorations, as well as fundraisers. The foundation teaches me about leadership, organization, and event planning. More importantly, the foundation shows me how much an illness affects a family's life, and how I can help them.

Team Spotlight

Samantha Weinstein - Junior Advisory Team

Senior @ Ayala High School

I decided to join the Let It Be Jr. Advisory Team this year because this is a time in my life when I can dedicate myself fully to the plans and aspirations that the foundation has and try to help carry it to new heights. I also believe in the message that the team promotes and I believe it's my job to spread that to as many of my peers as I can. For those who want to get involved, it's as simple as doing an act of kindness every day because you never know whose life you may be affecting.
